The Communications Training Officer Instructor Course teaches the best CTOs to teach others. Upon successful completion, the CTO Instructor will be able to train CTOs with APCO Institute materials. CTO Instructors will also be able to help build and maintain a successful CTO system. In the classroom, the CTO Instructor will explore the important elements of an effective CTO program, and will learn to incorporate these elements into an agency's CTO program.

Topics include:

Condensed review of the Communications Training Officer course

- The Instructional Process
- Simulation Design
- Testing and Evaluation
- Utilizing Lesson Plans and Student Materials

Upon successful completion, your CTO Instructor will be able to:

- Train new one-on-one trainers in a classroom environment
- Create effective simulations
- Create valid and reliable tests and other evaluation tools based on course objectives
- Understand civil and criminal liability issues as they pertain to the trainer
- Design and use instructional media
- Foster skill development through practical exercise
